

First Profession of Vows

Following the vestition ceremony, our five second-year Novices made their vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience for one year. Each Sister read and then signed her handwritten copy of the vows. The bishop presented to each of them a crucifix, a black veil and a ring of white gold as a sign of their espousal to the Divine King. To symbolize their separation from the world, the newly professed Sisters were covered by a black funeral pall in the sanctuary. Finally they knelt before the bishop to receive a blessed candle as a reminder to advance in the path of holiness.
