
Devotion to the Sacred Heart

A religious vocation is not only a sign of a particular love on the part of our Savior, but it is also a calling to return that love in a special way. The main purpose of the religious state is the glory of God and the sanctification of the individual's soul. In our congregation we fulfill this general aim by dedicating ourselves to make reparation to the Sacred Heart.

Daily Holy Hour

We strive to comfort the Sacred Heart and make reparation for sin by carrying out a variety of works, chief among which is our daily Holy Hour before the Blessed Sacrament.

Works of the Apostolate

We teach kindergarten through high school, weekly and summer catechism classes, and convert instruction. We also conduct retreats for women, visit the sick and infirm, and assist the dying.
