

to others. That the Sacred Heart and the Blessed Mother were the focus of his life was especially evident during the last weeks of his life. He frequently invoked their assistance, and amidst his many sufferings he was ever kind, gentle, considerate, and grateful to others.

Our Gratitude

To pray for and honor Bishop Kelly, there was a wake held on Long Island and a Pontifical Requiem Mass offered by the Most Reverend James Carroll, as well as a wake and a Solemn High Requiem Mass here in Round Top.

We truly were blessed in many ways to have Bishop Kelly guiding our congregation for so many years. Even though I have great confidence that the Bishop is already enjoying his well-earned reward—a special place with the Sacred Heart and Blessed Mother—he would want me to ask you to pray for him, so I do. As the Sisters and I strive to follow his example of virtue and of devotion to the Sacred and Immaculate Hearts, please also keep us in your prayers. You remain in ours each day.

In the Sacred Heart,

Mother Mary Bosco, F.M.
